NEW TILE COLLECTIONS

Cersanit presents 3 collections of glazed porcelain tiles
in a new format: 42x42

The G400 collection was created by re-formatting one of the best-selling last year's collections – Cersanit Brosto.

Tiles of this new edition gleam thanks to granilla and have been resized to the new, smaller format of 42x42 cm.

This classic collection, influenced by top Italian designs, draws inspiration from the natural stone motif. Its tile patterns realistically convey a decorative stony structure, imitating a solidified magma rock.

G400 is a great proposition for those who seek both classical tones and a touch of elegance in their interiors.

The G401 collection, drawing upon the motif of wood, represents a style designed for customers preferring more natural-themed interiors.

It offers an original alternative to wooden floors. Natural and neutral tiles colours and excellent technical parameters (resistance to moisture and frost) make G401 tiles suitable for universal application – they can be used in any interior, as well as outdoors.

The G402 collection, which excellently imitates the style of wooden floor boards, is perfect for those who seek comfortable, practical and original solutions for their homes and apartments.

With their delicate structure, the G402 tiles realistically convey the natural structure of wood, while their authentic colours, such as oak or maple, further intensify this effect.

The G402 tiles also have excellent technical parameters, which make them ideal both for bathrooms and living rooms.
