

SOFTWOOD

Softwood is a collection inspired by natural wood design with distinct rings and a slightly structural surface. It is offered in 2 matte shades: beige and cream. The warm beige tiles are perfect for arrangement of traditional, ambient residential interiors: living rooms, kitchens, halls or even bedrooms. On the other hand, the whitened, cold cream shade is excellent for modern Scandinavian style bathrooms, where the tiles can also be combined with smooth tiles or tiles imitating other materials, such as cement.

The Softwood collection is a perfect alternative to wooden boards. It is more durable, has a 6-year warranty period, and is resistant to extreme temperatures - from very high to below zero, which significantly extends its range of use. That is why these tiles will also work great outdoors: on terraces, balconies or loggias.

The Softwood tiles are rectified, which enables you to obtain a uniform surface by applying the smallest possible joints, as well as obtain the effect of the currently fashionable bevelled wooden panels, while applying a slightly wider joint in a contrasting colour.

a lot of layouts – more possibilities

Various colour shades and diverse patterns of the tiles provide the perfect imitation of natural materials, such as wood or stone.

The elongated format of the tiles enables to create various compositions.

Remember that the displacement of the tiles with respect to each other should not exceed one-third of the tile's length.

Note!

We recommend installation in arrangements involving the dislocation of a single tile with respect to another by $\frac{1}{3}$ of the tile's length at the most.
